Re: Melamine Statement

We understand and share your concerns about the safety and quality of food products and ingredients in light of the melamine contamination of Chinese sourced dairy products and food ingredients.

As part of our ongoing commitment to safety and quality, we require our food ingredient products suppliers to comply with any requirements set by the FDA, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency, and any other applicable regulatory body regarding the possible presence of melamine in any food product.

Ardent Mills would like to reiterate that based on the food safety and quality programs we have in place; we have no reason to believe that our grain-based products are a potential source of melamine contamination.

Sincerely,

Ardent Mills Regulatory Team
